

"BULLY FOR GRANT!"

The president has appointed Mr. Fairman, the civil service reform candidate, postmaster of Philadelphia. The entire press of the country, Radical and Opposition, applaud the act—all except the Chicago "Times," which says Cameron and Grant arranged the matter so that Cameron's president might obtain the applause of his enemies. This is a weak excuse for condemning a good act. What need we care why the president pursues our path? If he does, that is enough. As long as he remains in it, let us all say: "Bully for Grant!"

The president has, it is said, expressed his desire for universal amnesty, and his determination to conciliate the people of the South; but the Democrats who have been railing about the Radicalism of the BULLETIN declare, with emphasis, that "Grant is no man"—that he is not in favor of amnesty and don't want to conciliate the southern people. Our Democratic friends may be right. We hope they are not; but this is a very uncertain world, and white men, including presidents, are just as uncertain. Nevertheless, it seems to us—mind, we say it seems to us—that the president does intend to be wise in his southern policy. He has everything to gain by being the promoter of peace in Dixie and sectional unity in the Republic; and, what is more, he is already acting like a man who intends to be "square" on that issue. He has repudiated the Radicalism in Alabama and Louisiana. He has refused to send troops to Louisiana and has threatened to remove the Alabama marshal who arrested the Democratic members of the legislature. So far so good. If he should go farther, and act as Greeley talked about amnesty and peace at the South, we shall not hesitate to say: "Bully for Grant!"

It is also true—of course it is—that if Grant didn't stand up "fodder or no fodder" to the Liberal trough—that is to say, act up to the declarations of the Cincinnati and Philadelphia platforms, those twin political infants both born of Republican parentage, we shall say something else than "Bully for Grant!" confound him! But—don't you see?—we are held fast, by a heavy anchor of hope, to the belief that he will act wisely; and, if he does, may we not be led politically with the O'Connor men, read Alex. Stephens' editorials, own a dog, or live in Mount City, if we don't applaud him and cry at the top of our voice: "Bully for Grant!"

We had no doubt that the "State Register" would look at the political situation through spectacles like ours. It is now doing so, and sees a prospect of reform through the efforts of President Grant. The "Register" eloquently says: "President Grant is now in the full fruition of his 'honors.' His war record is untarnished; the stands abroad, as well as at home, 'frown' among the heroes either ancient or modern." The "Register" must be careful—very careful. The leaders of the Democratic party in this neighborhood have read us of the party for using language praising Gen. Grant not more than two-thirds as ardently as the above. But then, the "Register" understands how it is. They always pull back in the traces, and must be patted on the back and rubbed down and coaxed before they will go forward. They will all march up to our trough, friend "Register," by and by. Let us wait a little longer.

CORRESPONDENCE.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence of the Bulletin.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19, 1872.
The president in his message will recommend that Congress pass a bill removing all disabilities imposed by the 14th amendment to the constitution, on the ground that as the amendment does not exclude the ballot, only imposing disabilities to hold office upon certain persons, there is no good reason for it merely because they were, prior to the rebellion, prominent enough to be elected to offices requiring them to take an oath to support the constitution. This will include all that are disfranchised. Whether those Radicals in Congress, whose hate of the Southern people is a part of their religion, will agree to the proposition that the war is over and carry out the president's recommendation, is one of those things that no fellow can find out. The president will not recommend the annexation of San Domingo or the absorption of Cuba in his message; the former is undergoing a hot-house process of cultivation, and will not be ripe this season; it will fall, however, into Grant's lap when he shakes the tree.

WON'T WORK.

It is believed that the president will order the release of the three Conservative members of the Alabama legislature who were arrested on Saturday, refused bail and taken to Mobile charged with violating the enforcement act. It is well known here that it was done to prevent the conservatives from organizing the legislature and defeating the re-election of the carpet-bagger, George K. Spencer to the United States senate. From the rumors and the tone of the "Republican," Grant's organ, there is but little doubt that the high-handed outrage will not be sustained as a sporadic more or less, especially such as Spencer, makes but little difference to the Radical majority in the senate, or to the president who desires to ingratiate himself with the South. If there was a Radical necessity for the admission of this notorious carpet-bagger into the senate he would get aid and encouragement from the president, the Radical press and the senate, but unfortunately deviate from the civil-service rules in appointing to office in case of vacancies. To adhere strictly to these rules would necessitate the appointment of Assistant Secretary Richardson to the position of secretary of the treasury when Boutwell goes into the senate, and Bancroft Davis to be secretary of state when Fish goes abroad as minister, as it is thought he will, and the appointment of James S. Benedict to succeed Mr. Connelly as surveyor of the port of New York, whose deputy he now is. Grant's sincerity in this matter will ere long be thoroughly tested, and I am of opinion that in the main he will stick to the rules which he has advocated. Grant is sharp, smart and clever, and this civil-service reform is a cute plan to rid himself, to a great extent, of the power of the politicians to whom he determined four years ago to give the cold shoulder, but ere he was scarce in the presidential chair he required their aid, and in selecting from among them, he got the worst of the lot as his advisers. With the civil-service rules in force, the employees of the government would no longer be dependent upon the breath of the members or senators that got them their positions, and naturally enough they would support Grant for re-nomination, as his re-election would continue them in place. Thus instead of each senator and member wielding a certain amount of power through the patronage which is accorded them, the president attracts to himself all the gratitude and self-interest devotion formerly given to the senators and members by those in office, and who are kept in by the action of Grant in enforcing the civil-service rules. The outs and the politicians will in all probability combine against the ins who will be backed by the power and means of the administration, and the moneyed interests of the country. This is the programme for the succession as I view it. Just now Cameron swears that he will bend the president to do his bidding, and so things stand; but just this much, anybody who thinks that civil-service reform, as advocated by Grant, is done in the public interest, even though it have that effect, does not know Ulysses.

CENTRALIZATION.
The Radical journals are already forecasting the centralizing schemes of their party. The postal telegraph as recommended by Postmaster General Creswell has been urged by the "Chronicle," the Grant organ, as being a "beneficial" measure. To-day it advocates the passage of Congress a bill introduced last session for the better protection of emigrants, which is nothing more than an electioneering machine, differing from the freedmen's bureau only in the color of those who are to be manipulated. "Harper's Weekly," the editor of which, Geo. W. Curtis, is a personal friend of Grant, claims that education is a political duty; that the government must inaugurate a system of compulsory education and turn schoolmaster. The "Chronicle" also endorses this idea of turning our school system into a political machine, and thus place the expenditure of millions yearly in the hands of the Republican party to be used for party purposes. The Radicals think that in the election of Grant they drove the nail home, and are determined to clinch it during the next four years. It would seem as if they did not purpose to let the grass grow under their feet by their haste to get to work.

OUR PACIFIC COMMERCE.
A determined effort will be made this session of Congress to urge this body to adopt measures looking to the revival of our commerce—the very life-blood of our nation. This question will not assume a party character, every section and industry being equally interested. With the commerce of the Atlantic gone and that of the Pacific threatened by England, something must be done, and speedily, too, to save the latter, which, on account of our Pacific railroad, naturally belongs to us. Whether Congress does or does not adopt a general system of subsidies similar to that which has made England so powerful on the seas, the friends of the Australian mail steamship company express full confidence that Congress will grant the required aid to enable this company to continue their steamers to Australia, so as to compete with the largely-subsidized English steamers, now making such strenuous efforts to gain this immense and fast-growing trade. By the public spirit and indomitable energy of W. H. Webb, of New York, has this Australian steamship line been maintained and the great markets in the Pacific for our products and manufactures, amounting to millions of dollars yearly, been secured to us; but without government aid, against England's wealth and enterprise, this line will be driven off, and this rich trade diverted into other channels. This line being of special importance there is no doubt of its receiving aid and encouragement from Congress.

PERSONAL.
News from Nevada, indicate that the tally sheet of the senate, Nye, will have a jolly tussle with one John P. Jones for re-election. Nye would be a loss to Washington and if a Republican must represent Nevada, why, let us have the puny man to enliven the dull and oft prosy sittings of the eminently stupid senate. Zack Chandler is in town, gay as a lark, and lumbering around as gracefully as an elephant. Hon. Caleb Cushing, resides at Arlington, Va., opposite here, and cast his vote for Grant and Wilson, and for John Sympson, colored, for county clerk. Caleb croaks the pregnant hinges of his ancient knees very nimbly to pick up the legal crumbs that fall from the administration table. An able lawyer and fine scholar, but organized without a conscience.

HOME AGAIN.—Mr. Goldstone, of the firm of Goldstone & Rosenwasser, has returned home from New York, where he has been making large purchases of winter dry goods, clothing, etc. Luckily, Mr. Goldstone had completed all his purchases before the Boston fire, and therefore before the late advance in prices. Messrs. Goldstone & Rosenwasser can, consequently, sell at prices exceedingly below those now current in this market. They ask the public to call and inspect their goods and ascertain their prices, being satisfied that no one will go away from the store, leaving behind them the bargain this firm are prepared to offer.

SCARCE.—Local items yesterday. A "crick" in the reporter's neck is what created the scarcity.

JOHN S. DUNHAM'S yeast powder for purity and strength is unequalled. Try it, and you will use no other.
11-21-4t

THANKSGIVING BIRDS.—The most essential feature of Thanksgiving day will not be lacking in Cairo. Two carloads of turkeys arrived in town yesterday.

CALL and examine the pianos at the Rev. B. H. Thayer's and S. P. Wheeler's. St. Louis bell treble manufacture.
11-22t

PERSONS wishing any style of hair jewelry, or solid jewelry, to wear for the holidays, would do well to call at E. & W. Buder's, manufacturing jewelers.

STEVE, the bar-keeper, has opened a fine saloon in Louis Blatteau's old stand, where can be found, at all times, Steve serving his customers with the best of drinkables.
11-22-4f

E. & W. BUDER have just received a magnificent stock of silver and plated ware especially adapted for the holiday trade.

THE reputation of the Steinway piano is known all over the world.

A regular communication of Cairo Lodge No. 237, A. F. & A. M. will be held (to-morrow) Monday evening, at 7 o'clock. Visiting brothers cordially invited to attend.
B. F. BLAKE, Sec'y.

DEFERRED.—We are authorized to state the lecture which was to be delivered this evening at the Catholic church, is indefinitely postponed owing to the sudden death of the lecturer's brother, A. O'Brien, Esq. of St. Louis. Father O'Brien received a dispatch yesterday at noon, stating that one brother was dead, while another lay at death's gate. This is rather a sad stroke of affliction, and will no doubt elicit the sympathy of Father O'Brien's many friends in Cairo. He left for St. Louis on the 3 p.m. train yesterday.

THE St. Louis bell treble pianos are as durable as any piano in the market, and the sweetest-toned that you ever listened to.
N. P. CURTICE, Agent,
Conservatory, cor. Twelfth & Wash.
11-22-4f

TWO DISTINGUISHED PERSONAGES.—We learn from the Decatur "Magnet" that Thomas and Jeremiah have appeared in that village. We have not heard of the presence of those distinguished spiritual personages in Cairo, but then we don't take to that kind of people.

PIANOS and organs for from $50 to $1,500.
N. P. CURTICE, Agent,
Cor. Twelfth & Wash. ave.
11-22-4f

HE REIGNS.—From nearly all of our exchanges we obtain the important information that "Old Winter reigns." He reigns here too, as in them we kindly return to our newspaper friends who are unfortunate and live outside of Cairo; but he holds a mild scepter, and his breezes—the ministers to his disposition—are rather balmy—very courteous, and do not visit our face much too roughly.

DAN'L HARTMAN'S.

OUR EPIGRAPH.—The "Sun" takes exception to our epitaph. "How can we please the dear boy Davis? We pine to give him satisfaction, but can't. He's evidently mad, probably because Hendricks has assured him we have become a Radical. If so we shall instantly reform, and become a Bourbon; and, dying, let our epitaph be: 'He was a Radical, but sacrificed his party in the interest of his friend, who ran the paper over the way.' Confound it, we are resolved that we will be accommodating!"

THE CAIRO AND ST. LOUIS RAILROAD.—A correspondent of the St. Louis "Globe," writing from Chester, Illinois, under date of November 19th, says: "The Cairo and St. Louis railroad is being pushed rapidly forward to completion, the track-layers making upon an average a mile and a quarter per day. The construction train is nearing Waterloo, Monroe county, and by the last of January, 1873, will reach Sparta. This road not only penetrates some of the finest agricultural lands in this state, but traverses through the heart of the great coal fields of Southern Illinois at Sparta and Georgetown, in this county. When completed the Cairo and St. Louis will be the heaviest coal road leading into St. Louis, and a few years hence this portion of Egypt, Sparta and vicinity, will be changed to one of the grandest manufacturing districts in the country."

NOT US.—A Springfield telegram says: "A fair illustration of the famed lice of Egypt may be seen by coming to this city and observing the hordes of subordinate office-seekers." This is an unjust aspersions on us Radicals of Egypt. We are not lice, and, if we were, we are not in Springfield seeking office. We bite for better offices than the subordinate offices of this small state. There is not an Egyptian Radical at Springfield seeking office. We make this assertion with a full knowledge of its truthfulness and great importance. A house from Egypt could not be found at the state capital, if the city were carefully searched with a fine tooth

HERN.—Al Howa, insurance agent at St. Louis, representing the Andes and Triumphant, is in this city on business.

AT HOME.—Judge Whitley has returned from Shawanawana, where he has been engaged in professional business.

THE DUST.—The wind blew the dust about in every direction yesterday, and walking was rendered very unpleasant in consequence.

THE CRYSTAL.—This finely appointed saloon, complete in all its details, appears in our columns to-day with a card. Read it, and drop in occasionally at the Crystal.

HOLIDAY TOYS.—Phil. Saup, the confectioner and dealer, is now receiving his stock of holiday goods—the most extensive and complete stock of the kind ever brought to Cairo.

E. & W. BUDER have at present the largest stock of watches, jewelry, silver and plated ware ever brought to this city, which they will sell at prices that defy competition.

KNABE'S and Bauer's celebrated pianos and organs are on exhibition at E. & W. Buder's, the former having taken the first premium at all the principal state fairs where exhibited.

SAUP.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Saup have returned from their wedding trip, and have settled down to every day life with the congratulations of the THE BULLETIN and our wishes for their life-long happiness.

YOUNG MEN, ATTENTION.—Rev. H. B. Thayer will deliver the third discourse to young men this evening at the Presbyterian church. Subject: "The Young Man's Influence—His Power for Good or Evil."

STUART & GHOLSON can sell you fannels and blankets cheaper than any house in the city. We have just received a new lot of fannels bought at auction sale, which we offer much below market value.
11-22-2t

THOSE OYSTERS.—The oysters found at Jack Winter's, not brought on in cans, but by the keg, are among the largest and finest it has been our good fortune to eat. We hereby return thanks to Jack for a dish of the same.

KENTUCKY LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—A limited number of Gift Concert tickets for the Kentucky Library Association can be obtained of W. B. Rockwell & Co., on Commercial avenue. The sale will continue until the 25th inst.
11-10-4d

PAVING STONES.—The Illinois Central railroad has been delivering a large lot of stones between Eleventh and Twentieth streets, to be used in paving the levee where the transfer for the Mississippi Central Extension railroad is to be located.

ARRIVED.—The survey boat Arkansas arrived in Cairo yesterday. Col. Clement Smith, superintendent and engineer, reports that the river can be made navigable all the year round from St. Louis to Cairo. The report will be laid before Congress and appropriations to carry out the necessary work asked for.

GOOD.—We love good butter; we adore it. Why is aware of our weakness, and in deference to it, he a few days ago delighted our sense of sight and taste by a gift of a half dozen pounds of fresh, sweet butter. We ate it with relish, as who would not, and blessed without stint the thoughtful giver.

DRIVEN AWAY.—The "Sun" has driven us away from a good intention, and we so rarely get up to an intention of that kind that we are steeped in sorrow. We had intended to do something, and now won't, because the "Sun" has let the cat out of the bag in its paragraph headed "A Sensation."

A DIRECT ANSWER.—The Mound City "Journal" asks us to inform it who is the assistant political editor of that paper in this city. We won't. Why, the "Journal" is becoming as unreasonable as the "Sun." Must we keep it posted in reference to its editors, here or elsewhere? In the language of Patrick Henry and James Sumner, never!

ALL DAY.—Mr. Linerag, the great Radical, influenced by an abundance of affection for us, has sent word to us that on next Wednesday, our Radical day, he will be with us at seven o'clock and remain with us until twelve o'clock at night. After supper, with Gladney and Bird, we are to have "pitch" in the loving Radical way, but like good Democrats we are to eschew whisky entirely.

DRESS GOODS.—Stuart & Gholson are now offering special inducements in all classes of dress goods. We have a full line of all wool satinetts, in all the new cloth shades, also a full line of Empress cloths which we offer at prices fully 10 per cent. lower than any house in the city. Go to Stuart & Gholson for your hosiery, cloaks, trimmings, ribbons, etc. They can save you money.

SUSPICIOUS.—Yesterday Dr. Casey and Lieut. L. G. Harris were in the city and in the company of Davis of the "Sun." It is suspected that these old wheelbarrows of the Democracy—these almost Bourbonic devotees of eternal principles, all of which they have at their tongue's end—it is suspected that they have full designs upon the Radicalism of the "Sun." But the suspicion is unfounded, of course. The Radicalism of the "Sun" is, as it were, founded on a rock.

BOYS AWAY FROM HOME.—On Thursday evening last, Isaac, the youngest son of Judge Mulkey, and a son of B. F. Parker, left their homes, taking with them their skates and saying they intended to skate. There has been no ice that would bear the weight of boy or man, and as the boys have not been heard from or of since they left, their friends are much alarmed about them. It is hoped that they have gone off on a romantic runaway trip and will come back safe and sound.

NOTICE!—The ladies who have been waiting for our underwear to arrive, will now find an ample supply at our store. Our success in this specialty has been marked, and our efforts to meet the wants of this trade has met with the proper encouragement. The demand this season for this class of goods has been such as to tax our ability to meet, but we are now

THE OPENING OF THE CAIRO AND VINCENNES R.R.—In a few weeks the Cairo and Vincennes railroad will be opened, and Cairo should celebrate the event with a big jubilee. The surrounding country should be invited to come in, Vincennes and Mound City and all the towns along the road should send delegations, and the jubilee should be made a big and joyful "thing." Somebody must take the lead in this matter, and who shall it be? Why cannot the city council, at the next meeting, appoint a committee to report how and in what manner the opening should be celebrated? The city need go to no expense, but it can and should take the initiative in this matter. A committee such as we have suggested might call a public meeting, and in council with a committee of citizens all the necessary arrangements for the opening jubilee could be satisfactorily arranged.

BURNED TO DEATH.—A girl named Caroline Neimeyer was burned to death near Unity last week under the following peculiar circumstances. The woods were on fire, and men were engaged in a battle with it. Caroline went out to watch the progress of the conflict, and finally got the fire between her person and the wind. Sparks were blown into her clothing, which took fire. Before the flames could be extinguished she was so seriously injured, that in a few hours she died in great agony.

VISITORS.—A number of Kentuckians were in town yesterday transacting business with Cairo merchants.

HAVE YOU SEEN HER?—A lady who for the last five years has been a leader of fashion in New York, and who may be seen twice a week in her elegant caletche driving a pair of superb ponies in Central Park, has recently stated, in the select circle to which she belongs, that the only article in existence which imparts beauty and luster to the complexion without ultimately impairing the texture of the skin, and causing it to collapse and wrinkle, is Hogan's Magnolia Balm. The name of the distinguished member of the beau monde who made this declaration cannot with propriety be given, but it may be mentioned as a woman who she has spent several years of her life in Europe and is familiar with all the arts and preparations employed by the court beauties of the old world to enhance their charms.

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.
The fine steamer Henry Ames will leave for New Orleans and way landings this evening at 6 o'clock.

The low-pressure Quickstep is the boat leaving for Evansville and all way landings this evening at 6 o'clock.

The regular Anchor Line packet will leave for Memphis, Vicksburg and all way landings this evening at 6 o'clock.

CONDITION OF THE RIVERS.
The Ohio is still falling steadily at this harbor. The packets report Davis' island the worst place below the Barracks, where there is but 4 feet scant. The channel between here and Louisville is being reduced gradually, and boats are beginning to have trouble. Special dispatches to THE BULLETIN report the condition of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers at various places.

BUSINESS AND WEATHER.
Business was splendid all last week and a large amount of freight was handled during the week.

MISCELLANEOUS.
The Grand Tower brought 495 bales of cotton, and has laid up till further orders.

The Mitchell finished the repairs to her machinery, and left yesterday morning with a big trip of freight and people.

The Arkansas Belle did not arrive until yesterday morning, having been detained at Paducah, taking the Quickstep's freight, she having turned back from that port.

The St. Joseph was aground 8 hours at Davis' island, where she found only 4 feet. She had to spar four lengths of herself before she succeeded in getting over. She brought in the neighborhood of 200 tons, which she turned over to the Elliott.

Several steamers have laid up at Portland waiting for the locks to the new canal to be repaired, so that they may ascend.

The Esperanza loaded with iron ore is laid up at Cincinnati, waiting for more water to Pittsburgh.

The dry docks at Memphis are for sale or lease.
The steamer Ida was four weeks making a trip from New Orleans to Shreveport. In some places they found the water so low that her crew had to dig a channel with shovels and then work the same out from under the hull with hose attached to the force pump. A novel plan for getting over sand bars.
The John Kilgour got aground on a rock on Cache Island yesterday morning and was pulled off by the snag boat J. H. Long. She was chuck full of freight and people.
The idea of raising the St. Marys has been abandoned and the Eckert is now wrecking her. The rest of the crew came up on the Arlington yesterday.
The Quickstep has taken the Idlewild's days in the Evansville and Cairo trade, and will leave here every Sunday and Thursday evening.
